Design and technology

The Miravilla counter is the result of technological research, increasingly aimed at easing the work of pastry chefs, gelato and chocolate makers. Designed and produced by Clematis, the Italian company based in Caluso near Milan, it is at the same time elegant, functional and innovative, and it represents a true opportunity for gelato, gelateria, pizzeria and chocolate sectors.

The windows of the counter are monolithic and stainless steel covered, with rounded internal edges which allow a perfect cleaning. The displays for gelato and sandwich are equipped with hermetic engines designed for a quick cycle inversion. It has tempered and stratified glasses with an anti-drip up system, while the opening system works through an electromechanical device, which is activated by the operator. Moreover, the counter allows temperature and humidity control and humidity levels can be regulated depending on the products displayed. The counter is independent from the surrounding temperature and humidity, thus resulting in excellent preservation in both hot and cold seasons. www.clematis.com
